DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's amendment, filed 09/21/2006, has been entered.
Claims 2, 15, 35, 37, 41-47 have been canceled.
Claims 1, 3-14, 16-34, 36, 38-40 and 48-69 are pending and currently under restriction requirement.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1, 3-25, 34, 66 and 67 drawn to a polynucleotide, a transformed cell, and a method for producing IgM comprising culturing the transformed cell.

Group II, claim(s) 26-33, 36, 38-40, 48-53 and 68-69 drawn to an IgM and a pharmaceutical composition comprising the IgM.

Group III, claim(s) 54-63, drawn to a method for analyzing an IgM.

Group IV, claim(s) 64, drawn to an electrophoresis gel for separating an IgM polymer.

Group V, claim(s) 65, drawn to a method for producing an electrophoresis gel.

The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: PCT Rule 13.2 defines "special technical features" as "those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art." In addition, unity of invention has to be considered in the first place only in relation to the independent claims.

Meng et al. (Eur. J. Immunol. 1990, 20:2505-2508, cited on IDS) teach using SPS-PAGE for separating IgM (see page 2506 and figure 1). Therefore the technical feature of the present application does not contribute over prior art, thus no special technical feature exists.

Species Election

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

4. If Invention I is elected, Applicant is required to elect the following species:

A) a specific transformed cell as recited in claims 3-4 (e.g., "eukaryotic" OR "prokaryotic");

B) a specific promotor recited in claims 12 and 13 (e.g., "CAG promotor" OR "CMV promotor"); and

C) a specific nucleotide sequence as recited in claim 34 (e.g., nucleotide sequence of SEQ ID NO: 3 OR 19 OR 21).

5. If Invention II is elected, Applicant is required to elect the following species:

A) a specific amino acid sequence as recited in claim 34 (e.g., amino acid sequence of SEQ ID NO: 4 OR 20 OR 22).

B) a specific antibody as recited in claim 32-33 (e.g., anti-GM2 OR anti-GM3);

C) a specific composition recited in claim 49-51 (e.g., "80% or more pentamer IgM" OR "50% or more hexamer IgM"); and

D) a specific ratio recited in claims 52-52 (e.g., "pentamer/hexamer ratio if 1.5 or more" OR "hexamer/pentamer ration is 1.5 or more").

6. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: see Meng et al.

7. Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

8. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

9. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Art Unit: 1644

10. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
